

WORLD CAN'T DISARM YET, U. N. TOLD

TURKEY URGED TO JOIN WAR
BACK IN 1943SECRET BIG THREE AGREEMENTS ARE MADE PUBLIC

Washington, March 24 (AP)—Secret sections of the wartime Big Three agreements were made public tonight, disclosing that the United States and its allies wanted Turkey in the war in 1943.

This contrasted with a view expressed by Undersecretary of State Acheson during his testimony on the pending proposal to aid Turkey and Greece against Communism. He told Congress that Turkey's neutrality served the Allies better than if she had gone to war against Germany.

The state department released what it said was the complete text of the agreements made at Tehran and Yalta by the late President Roosevelt, Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill, and at Potsdam by President Truman, Stalin and Prime Minister Attlee of Britain.

Proposed By Russia

It did so at the demands of congressmen who wanted the information made public in connection with the Greek-Turkey plan.

Most of the contents of these agreements had come to light previously. What was new was the full statement of the military conclusions reached at Tehran, and the exact wording of other papers whose substance only had been known.

The documents showed that Russia, now seeking a share with Turkey in defense of the Dardanelles, had raised the proposal at Yalta in February, 1945. Stalin sought revision of the Montreux convention which covers control of the straits, and Roosevelt and Churchill agreed that Turkey "should be informed at the appropriate moment."

Then, at Potsdam, the Big Three "recognized" that the Montreux pact "should be revised as failing to meet present-day conditions." No details were stipulated. "It was agreed," the text shows, "that as the next step, the matter should be the subject of direct conversations between each of the three governments and the Turkish government."

Interpretations Differ

The wording of this agreement, which now has given rise to controversy between Moscow and the western capitals, had not been available previously. The Russians hold that it sanctions two-sided negotiations between Russia and Turkey. The United States contends that any negotiations with Turkey should be by Russia, Britain and the U. S. together.

The proposal for Turkey to enter the war was outlined in the Tehran military conclusions. Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin were "agreed that, from the military point of view, it was most desirable that Turkey should come into the war on the side of the Allies before the end of the year." That was on Dec. 1, 1943.

In that connection, Stalin pledged that "if Turkey found herself at war with Germany and as a result Bulgaria declared war on Turkey or attacked her, the Soviet would immediately be at war with Bulgaria." Negotiations were proposed to inform Turkey of this commitment by Moscow.

Russia then was officially at war.

Greece Needs
Help Quickly,
Senators Told

Washington, March 24 (AP)—Secretary of War Patterson urged Congress today to rush aid to Greece lest armed bands led by Communists seize control.

Secretary of the Navy Forrestal disclosed that four mine sweepers already have been sold to Turkey and that nation, with Greece, has called for more naval ships.

And Undersecretary of State Acheson, asked whether any country besides Russia threatens Turkey, declared that "I do not know of any other country which is a potential aggressor as far as Turkey is concerned."

The three testified before the Senate foreign relations committee, with both Patterson and Acheson giving assurances that the sending of American troops to Greece or Turkey is not in President Truman's plans "not contemplated," said Patterson; "we do not intend to," said Acheson.

Money To Be Gift

But more than half of the $400,000,000 to be spent in Greece and Turkey as a bulwark against Communism will go for military purposes. This was disclosed by Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton in testimony before the House foreign affairs committee.

The military funds would be an outright grant to the two Mediterranean countries, not a loan, and it was strongly indicated that most of the other money likewise would be a gift. Acheson said he expects only some $50,000,000 to be repaid.

Moreover, Acheson declared, the United States must put more money into southern Korea because Russia has blocked efforts to unify that country. The amount is "not at all clear," he said, but Congress will have the final say.

The Senate committee, opening its hearings, heard Acheson, Patterson and Forrestal in quick order.

In calling for speed on the aid to Greece in view of the armed menace which he said is led by Communists, Patterson proposed that Congress make a quick $100,000,000 available.

TRUMAN CHECKS
WITH 'BIG SIX'Future Of Legislation
Discussed At White House Dinner

Washington, March 24 (AP)—President Truman appealed to a conference of congressional leaders tonight for an extension of war power authority to control sugar, rice and other grains and certain strategic materials.

In an unusual night meeting with the congressional "big six," the president did not even touch on the international situation, conferees said afterwards.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), presiding officer of the Senate, was asked by reporters if United States aid to Greece and Turkey came up during the conference.

"Not once," he replied. "I can say that honestly."

Vandenberg and Senator Barkley (D-Ky.), the Senate minority leader, said the discussions were devoted entirely to an extension of authority under the war powers act.

The president, Barkley said, expressed the need for continued controls over materials such as tin, antimony, sugar, rice, hemp fibers, and certain medicines, including the new drug streptomycin.

While Barkley said there was general agreement on the need for exploration for methods of controlling at least some of these items, the question as to how to proceed was left up to Congress.

Mason Man, 75, Buys Gun, Kills Himself In Hardware Store

Mason, Mich., March 24 (AP)—Despondency and ill health led to the suicide of Jay Williams, 75, who shot himself in a hardware store today minutes after he had purchased the gun, sheriff's deputies said.

Judge W. S. Seeley, who acted as coroner, returned the suicide verdict, ruling an inquest unnecessary.

Harry Willett, clerk in the Dart Hardware store, told the deputies that Williams, a retired painter and paperhanger, entered the store which was empty at the time and asked to be shown a shotgun.

He said he wanted to shoot rats.

After selling Williams a 12 gauge, single barrel gun, Willett said he walked to the rear of the store. He heard a shot and rushed to find Williams lying on the floor.

A physician pronounced him dead of a gaping wound in the abdomen.

BEVIN ANGLES
FOR ALLIANCE
WITH SOVIETSCUT IN OCCUPATION
TROOPS FAVORED
BY MARSHALL

BY WES GALLAGHER

Moscow, March 24 (AP)—Ernest Bevin conferred for an hour and 15 minutes tonight with Prime Minister Stalin, and it was authoritatively learned that the British foreign secretary urged the strengthening and extension of the British-Russian alliance against German aggression.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was present during the interview.

It had been understood that Bevin intended to discuss with Stalin a United States proposal for a four-power pact covering German demilitarization for 40 years. There was no official announcement, however, of what was covered in the meeting.

German Emigration Proposed French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault conferred last week with Stalin. U. S. Secretary of State Marshall is the only visiting member of the council of foreign ministers who has not met with the generalissimo.

The council was in recess today, but will reconvene tomorrow for the third week of discussions on Germany and Austria.

Other developments today included:

1. The French delegation proposed that a four-power meeting be convened in Paris before next July 1 to organize emigration of Germans from Germany to France and other countries. This action was taken in connection with French plans to reduce the heavy population of Germany, which the French contend is a "war potential."

The French also proposed that the transfer of German nationals to Germany, from such countries as Poland and Czechoslovakia, be suspended.

2. A four-power coordinating committee, appointed by the ministers to sort out matters of agreement and disagreement on the German treaty, held a stormy meeting. Subjects covered thus far indicated that the ministers, during the first two weeks of their session, were in disagreement on about three-quarters of the matters discussed.

3. Marshall was reported to have recommended that the number of Allied troops in Germany be reduced to a bare essential minimum, so as to cut occupation costs and help Germany get on her feet economically.

An authoritative source said Marshall's proposal was contained in one of three American papers circulated among the other three ministers. The other papers dealt with German democratization and the compensation of Allied nationals whose property had been seized.

BIG RED THREAT
SEEN FOR U. S.Legion Leader Estimates
100,000 Communists
In This Country

Washington, March 24 (AP)—The House committee on un-American activities heard testimony today that there are enough Communists in the United States to form the framework of ten military divisions and that their aim is to soften this country "for the ultimate assault the Soviet government intends to make."

The estimate of Communist party strength and organization came from James F. Green of Omaha, chairman of the American Legion's Americanism commission. Saying there are at least 100,000 Communists in this country, he added:

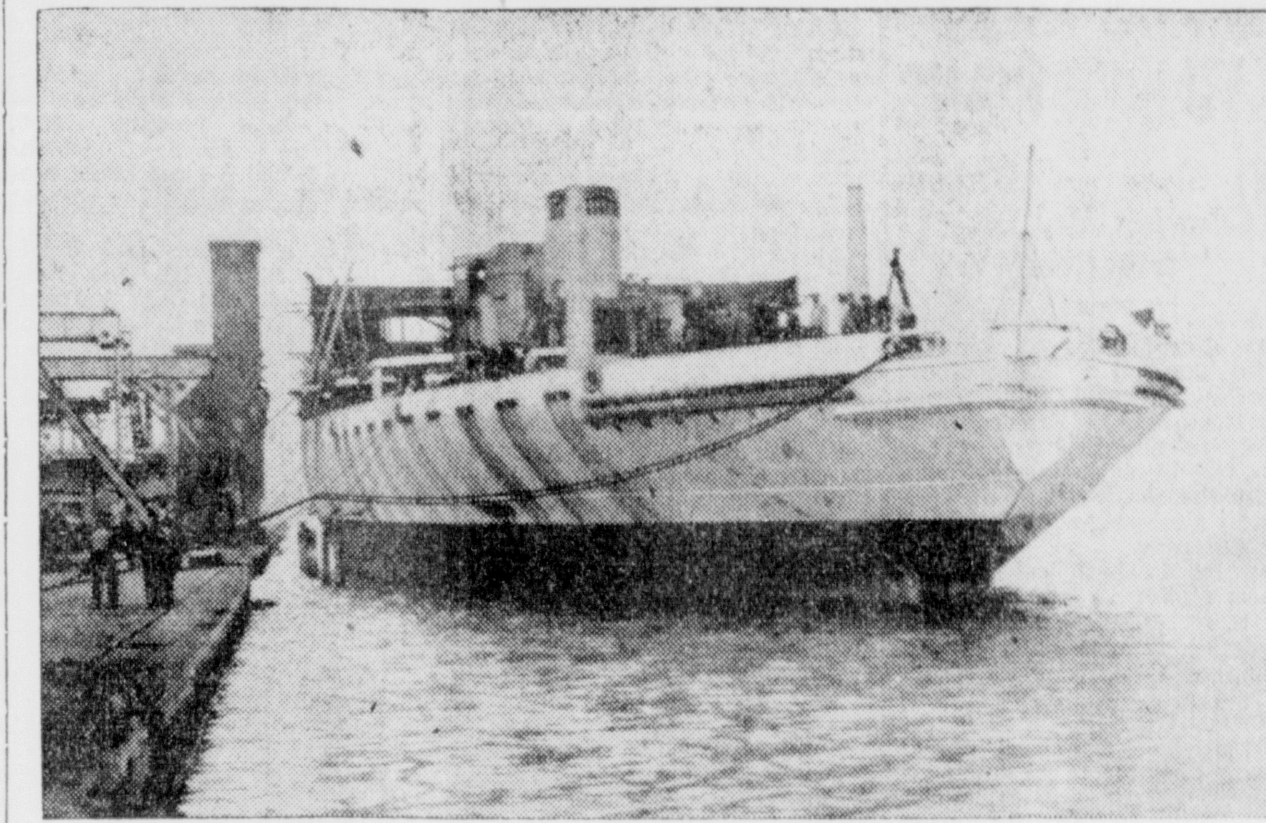

"Here are cadres for ten divisions already on American soil." William C. Bullitt, former ambassador to Moscow, made the assessment of aim, coupling it with the assertion that if Russia had the atom bomb "it would already have been dropped on the United States."

Russia, Bullitt said, "will not choose to attack until it has manufactured atomic bombs in quantity and until it feels that it has an 'air force' stronger than the United States."

That gives us a certain time "in which we can say stop to Stalin and mean it, and he will stop," Bullitt said. But Stalin will not stop of his own accord. Bullitt added, any more than Hitler did. He recommended "emphatically" that America keep an ample supply of atomic bombs on hand.

Tail End Of Winter
Whips State; Winds
Topple Power Lines

An "unusual" spring storm struck Michigan late Monday, with driving snow and strong winds disrupting communications and halting traffic in some sections.

The storm moved in quickly on western portions of the state during the late afternoon, changing drizzling rain to sleet and snow whipped about by 30 to 60 mile an hour winds.

At Grandville, a suburb of Grand Rapids, 400 employees of Winters and Crampton, an auto parts supplier, were sent home when telephone and power lines were downed.

Portions of Kalamazoo, Grand Haven, Grand Rapids, Jackson, and Lansing were darkened when power lines fell before the onslaught of the storm.

At Kalamazoo, the sheriff's office had flares set out to guard fallen high tension wires. With temperatures around the freezing mark, a wet and heavy snow fall was driven with sufficient force to halt traffic for a time in Battle Creek and Kalamazoo.

Lansing residents were startled by heavy lightning which punctuated the storm.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Detroit termed the conditions "rather unusual" and predicted a return to spring-like weather by late Tuesday.

The winds will continue over most of the state fresh to strong with gusts up to 60 miles an hour, the bureau said.

The bureau explained the wintry conditions resulted when a cold front moved in from the west and north, pushing the warm moist air ahead of it.

Battle Creek reported rising winds and heavy snow began late Tuesday.

Frankfort Official Beaten; Candidate For Mayor Hunted

Frankfort, Mich., March 24 (AP)—E. C. McCauley, 45-year-old candidate for mayor of Frankfort, was sought by state police tonight on a warrant charging him with assault and battery in the beating of an aged city councilman.

Police concentrated the search on the western portion of the state and a guard was posted at the office of Attorney General Eugene F. Black after McCauley was reported enroute to Lansing "to see the attorney general."

According to Undersheriff C. T. Carland of Benzie county, Councilman N. E. Salynes was substituting for City Clerk Flora Hare when McCauley appeared, demanding the minutes of a council meeting in which he was interested.

When Salynes refused, McCauley beat the 70-year-old official and threw him out of the building, the officer said.

When another councilman, E. R. Luedtke, responded to a telephone call from Salynes, McCauley threatened his life, said Carland, then departed in his car with the remark that he was going to Lansing "to see the attorney general."

Lansing, March 24 (AP)—Weight restrictions will go into effect on all state trunklines in the Upper and Lower Peninsulas at midnight tonight, the state highway department announced today.

Undermining of roads by steady rains was blamed for the step by department spokesmen.

MISSING ARMY PLANE LOCATED

Desolate Newfoundland Area Scene Of Crash; Survivors Sighted

Stephenville, Nfld., March 24 (AP)—A United States army C-54 transport, missing since Friday afternoon, was found today crashed 25 miles south of here and rescue operation directors promised that survivors would be evacuated by tomorrow afternoon.

Two boats carrying ground rescue parties were to leave here at midnight for the crash scene and a U. S. Coast Guard helicopter flown from New York was being prepared for evacuation hops to begin at 4 a. m. CST tomorrow.

Nine persons were aboard the plane when it crashed and the crewmen of search planes which located it today said four or five men were seen walking near the wreck. The four-engine transport appeared to be little damaged, but signals from the survivors indicated there were several injuries.

Survival kits were dropped at the scene by a search plane, a U. S. army air transport command plane based at Harmon Field, Stephenville.

There are no roads on the 1,500-plateau where the transport came down. The desolate, forested area is about four miles from the Newfoundland railroad and about the same distance from the fishing village of St. Teresa on the St. George's Bay, but isolated from both by cliff-like rocks and dense forests.

Wife And Children Held With Brothers For Detroit Holdup

Detroit, March 24 (AP)—Two brothers, accompanied by the wife and five children of one of them, were arrested today 15 minutes after a $145 holdup at an International Harvester Co. store.

Det. Sgt. Walter Wyrod said the woman and children were riding with the men to screen their getaway after the robbery.

In custody were Harry Earl Ballard, 3, and Lee Edward Ballard, 39. Harry's wife, Mabel, 35, also was detained for questioning and the children, ranging in age from 5 to 11, were taken to the juvenile detention home.

Wyrod said Leo ordered four counter men in the store and a woman customer to lie on the floor at gun-point, and, with Harry standing guard at the door, took the money from cash drawer.

Brewer had pleaded guilty a week ago to a charge of second degree murder.

The accused man reported the murder to authorities, saying first he had found his wife, Olga, 27, beaten to death when he returned home in the evening. He denied knowledge of the crime in the face of a statement by his three-year-old son, Billy, that "Daddy killed mamma with a beer bottle."

All-night questioning by sheriff's deputies and State Police led to his confession the following morning, Sheriff Loren Bassett reported.

Beer Bottle Killer Of Wife Gets 30-40 Year Prison Term

Howell, Mich., March 24 (AP)—Circuit Judge Joseph Collins today sentenced Almon W. Brewer, 41, to a 30 to 40 year prison term in the beer bottle bludgeoning of his wife Feb. 13.

Brewer had pleaded guilty a week ago to a charge of second degree murder.

The accused man reported the murder to authorities, saying first he had found his wife, Olga, 27, beaten to death when he returned home in the evening. He denied knowledge of the crime in the face of a statement by his three-year-old son, Billy, that "Daddy killed mamma with a beer bottle."

Bell System
Strike Voted
For April 7

Washington, March 24 (AP)—The policy committee of the National Federation of Telephone Workers today voted to call a nationwide strike in the Bell Telephone system at 6 a. m. April 7.

President Joseph A. Beirne of the NFW announced the action of the 49-member policy committee at the close of the first day's session in what was announced as a week-long meeting.

Beirne said the committee had voted unanimously to begin a nationwide tieup of telephone service by 287,000 members of 39 unions on April 7 at 6 a. m. in each time zone across the nation.

"The Bell System," Beirne told a news conference, "by its refusal to offer counter proposals to our demands, and by its action in trying to move backwards in contract matters, has restricted the course of action of the federation."

However, Beirne was instructed to contact President Walter A. Gifford and vice president Cleo Graig of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, for negotiations with the union's national coordinated bargaining committee no later than April 1.

Beirne said he is to report to his policy committee by 2:30 p. m. tomorrow "on the A. T. and T's reply."

The negotiations sought by the union would cover the $12 weekly wage increase and nine other bargaining items at issue between the union and the employers.

The conferees, Beirne said, will take place in Washington if the company agrees.

Beirne told reporters that the policy committee, on which he does not have a vote, adopted three motions unanimously.

One was to call the strike. Another was to offer negotiation of their dispute with the company.

The third was to make this declaration:

"In the interest of the public and in the interest of the people we represent, our stated policy is reiterated and every reasonable effort shall be made to reach a satisfactory agreement with the telephone management."

FIGHT ASSURED
ON TAX SLASHHouse GOP Unanimous;
Democrats Promise
Battle To End

Washington, March 24 (AP)—Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) predicted overwhelming House approval of the income tax cut after a GOP conference today but Democratic leaders voted unanimously to fight it to the end.

Martin told reporters that about 200 of the 245 House Republicans attended a meeting in the House chamber behind closed doors and that when those opposed to the bill were asked to stand, not one arose. He claimed virtually unanimous GOP support.

However, Rep. Engel (R-Mich.), who has called the GOP-backed measure "a rich man's bill," left the meeting early and said he will carry his fight to the floor when debate begins Wednesday. The vote is due Thursday.

Rep. Rayburn (Tex.), the Democratic floor leader, announced that the House Democratic steering committee and other party leaders decided unanimously to support President Truman's position that now is not the time to cut taxes, but that any surplus should be applied on the debt. The Democrats have 138 members.

"This thing should be deferred," Rayburn said, "until such time as we have information on which we can legislate intelligently. It might remove the prospect of a balanced budget."

While the bill appears bound to pass the House, storm signals are ahead in the Senate. Senator George (D-Ga.), Democratic chief on tax legislation, said today it would face delaying action.

Gasoline Goes Up
Again In Detroit

Detroit, March 24 (AP)—A half cent per gallon retail gasoline price increase, the second in less than two weeks, was announced today by Rankin P. Peck, executive director of the Retail Gasoline Dealers' Association of Michigan.

The boost, to go into effect Wednesday, results from a wholesale price increase of the same amount, Peck said.

The increase will bring Detroit area prices to 22.1 cents per gallon for regular branded gasolines and 24.1 cents for ethyl. Corresponding increases will apply over the entire state Peck said.

AMERICA AND BRITAIN LOOK FOR SECURITY

RUSSIANS SILENT ON MOMENTOUS PEACE ISSUE

BY LARRY HAUCK

Lake Success, N. Y., March 24 (AP)—The United States and Britain told the United Nations almost in unison today that the world is not yet ready for disarmament and won't be until international security is established.

Russia, which presented the original arms-slashing proposals in a speech by Foreign Minister Molotov to the U. N. General Assembly last October, remained silent on the momentous issue as the two western powers opened debate at the first meeting of the 11-nation commission on conventional armaments.

"When peace is concluded and security is organized, reduction of armaments then will be politically feasible," American Delegate Herschel V. Johnson told the initial arms session on the eve of the U. N.'s first anniversary in the United States.

Early Results Unlikely

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, declared that the U. N. must establish international confidence with a global police force as its bulwark before "any concrete measures to regulate or reduce armaments can be put into effect."

Both the speakers emphasized they were ready to go ahead with a study of arms reduction immediately, but held little hopes for early results.

As the discussions got under way delegates kept a sharp eye on Moscow and Washington dispatches for trends such as might be indicated by the conference between Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Generalissimo Stalin in the Soviet capital and Undersecretary of State Acheson's statement that Russia is a "potential aggressor" against Turkey.

"The regulation of armaments is not itself the ultimate objective," Johnson said. "The ultimate objective is a world in which free men can live in peace and security."

"Safeguards Outlined

He then laid down four conditions which must be met:

1—Safeguards as an inseparable part of any system of regulation.

2—Completion of the peace treaties with Germany and Japan.

3—Conclusion of special agreements setting up an international military force.

4—Establishment of strict international control of atomic energy.

Stressing a need for speed in setting up the global police, Johnson commented that "military force has a legitimate place in the organization of peace and security."

Cadogan laid down three basic principles which he said must be accepted if the U. N. is to succeed with any arms reduction program. Differing little from the United

Ice Crusher Mackinaw To Open Harbor At Escanaba

The U. S. Coast Guard's high-powered ice crusher "Mackinaw" left Cheboygan, Mich., yesterday for Escanaba to attempt opening the harbor for Great Lakes shipping, it was reported yesterday by Coast Guard headquarters at Cleveland.

The information was received yesterday morning by Capt. Dan Garrett, Escanaba lighthouse keeper.

Capt. Garrett immediately advised commercial fishermen of the area that they should remove their nets and other ice fishing equipment from Little Bay de Noc waters as soon as possible.

NETS DELAY OPENING

Capt. Dan Garrett last night wired the Cleveland headquarters of the Coast Guard to request that the opening of the Escanaba harbor by the Ice Breaker Mackinaw be delayed 48 hours to permit commercial fishermen to remove approximately $50,000 worth of fishing nets from Little Bay de Noc.

If the Mackinaw is successful in opening a channel fishermen will be unable to cross it, and it is also possible that once broken the ice might move out if there is a strong northerly wind.

It was reported from St. Ignace by Commander C. E. Steber, skipper of the Mackinaw, that an effort will be made to open Escanaba harbor for shipping which is expected to get under way by April 1.

Leaving Cheboygan the Mackinaw will go through the Straits of Mackinaw from Lake Huron to Lake Michigan, and thence to Green Bay and Little Bay de Noc. Although there are heavy windrows of ice in places in the Straits, the Mackinaw is not expected to have any difficulty in opening a lane through. After clearing a channel into Escanaba, the ice crusher will return to the Straits to finish the job there.

The ice in Green Bay and Little Bay de Noc is reported to be about 14 to 18 inches thick but considerably weakened by recent warm weather and the Sunday night rain.

Ice fishermen of Escanaba have continued to operate up to yesterday, and some of them will probably be out today to remove their equipment if it appears the Mackinaw's channel would separate them from the shore. Some fishing will go on until the ice becomes unsafe, however.

The Great Lakes Carriers association is anxious to get navigation under way early in April, according to Commander Steber. The Coast Guard is cooperating by having ice crushers on the job to act as escorts for steamships until ice conditions clear up, he said.

Three farm people are injured in accidents each minute of the day.

TAKE BIDS ON M-35 PAVING

State Proposes 6 Miles Of Concrete In 1947 Near Menominee

Bids for the construction of nearly six miles of concrete paving on highway M-35 will be opened today in the Escanaba office of the state highway department.

The length of highway to be paved is from the North Shore golf course north along the bay shore from Menominee. The roadway was graded and prepared for surfacing last year. Completion of the paving is scheduled for this year, and will provide concrete surfacing from Menominee north for a distance of about 10 miles.

Bids will also be opened at the highway office in Escanaba today for the production of maintenance gravel for trunkline highways in the Upper Peninsula.

A third project on which bids will be received is for the fabricating of structural steel for a bridge job in Baraga county.

Gas buses, street cars and trackless trolleys in America traveled more than three billion miles last year, almost 18 round trips to the sun.

Restrict Loads On All U. P. Highways

Effective midnight last night weight restrictions will be enforced on all Upper Peninsula trunkline highways, it was announced yesterday through the highway office in Escanaba. The notification came from State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler in Lansing.

The restriction limits the loading of vehicles to weights that might cause damage during the spring break-up period, when the frost is leaving the ground.

GEARTTS TALKS TO KIWANIS

Tells Story Of Banana Growing And Distribution

The romance of banana growing in Central America and the careful handling of the fruit by steamship, railroad, and trucks until it reaches the consumer's hands were described in an interesting talk by A. J. Geartts, manager of the Northwest Fruit company, at a meeting of the Kiwanis club yesterday.

Bananas are best grown in the tropical regions because of the high temperatures and plentiful rainfall. Geartts said. An annual rainfall of 110 inches makes for the best growing conditions.

Bananas grow on a plant, rather than a tree, and each plant produces one bunch of the fruit annually, Geartts explained. After the bananas are harvested, they must be kept in temperatures ranging from 55 to 72 degrees.

Consequently, Central American bananas are removed from the plants at night and quickly transported to refrigerated boats. Arriving at ports like New Orleans, the bananas go through a grading process and are packed for shipment in refrigerated cars. A messenger accompanies a trainload of bananas to keep a careful check of the temperature and air conditions in each car, Geartts said.

The best time for eating bananas is when they are covered with brown specks, Geartts said, for at this time the fruit has its highest sugar content. Discussing other fruits, Geartts said that Texas and Florida oranges are colored with a harmless vegetable dye to give them more sales appeal. Seedless grapefruit sometimes

Rotary Club Proposes Youth Service Program

The Escanaba Rotary club in meeting yesterday noon approved a nine-point program recommended by a special committee appointed to study ways in which the community and the club might better serve the youth of Escanaba.

Covering the field of service, the program is designed to be of benefit in reducing juvenile delinquency in the community, and directing attention to projects in which the community might cooperate for the betterment of youth. The special committee presenting the report was composed of Dr. Thomas A. McInerney, William Karas, Wallace Watt, Ben Westrate, E. A. Wenner and Dr. R. E. Pleune.

The report of the committee was presented by John Lemmer, discussed point by point by the Rotary club and approved. The recommendations of the committee were as follows:

1—That a psychiatric social worker, to work in conjunction with the Children's Center at Marquette, be employed locally and that the Rotary club sponsor a fund-raising drive for the salary of such a person.

2—Since a county court is more economical, more equitable, and ordinarily more efficient because the judgeship requires a lawyer, that the city council be requested to establish a county court in Delta county.

3—In order to promote traffic safety, that a traffic education committee be established, and that have seeds if taken from the first crop from the grove. Elberta peaches were recommended as the best variety of peaches. The reason Western apples sell better in the stores is that the growers of the Pacific coast region do a better job of grading, cleaning, packing and marketing the fruit, Geartts said.

Mr. Geartts was introduced by John J. Mitchell, program chairman.

Alvin Ness was inducted as a member of the Kiwanis club at yesterday's meeting.

DOES WONDERS FOR CONSTIPATED MAN

Famous cereal keeps him "regular" without drugs

Discouraged about your constipation? Then read this sincere, unsolicited letter:

"I tried so many kinds of laxatives for constipation, but after a while they all failed to do their work. I started to eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN some time ago and was surprised to find this wonderful product helped me as many laxatives had failed to do. I eat it every day now and am happy to say I feel like a new man!" Mr. B. Lee Ward, 115 Park Avenue, Edgewood 2, B. I.

Yes, often ALL-BRAN regularly, often brings lasting relief from constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet. For best results, eat it for breakfast every day—and drink plenty of water. Try it for ten days! If by that time you are not completely satisfied with KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN, send the empty carton to the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Michigan, and get double your money back.

ALL-BRAN is not a purgative but a wholesome food made from the vital outer layers of whole wheat. Eat daily either as a cereal, or in muffins. Ask your grocer for KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN.

GLADSTONE

Nick Roumans Find U.S. Heavenly After Greece

BY ROSE LACHAPPELLE

The day the U. S. Marina Corp set sail from Athens, Greece, six months ago, a look at her list of 890 passengers would have disclosed the Nick Rouman family, mother, father and six children, destined for the United States.

Now living in Traverse City, Mich., on a peaceful little farm the family from the land of the first democracy, the Parthenon, Acropolis and Socrates, are visiting the Prokos and Rouman families of Escanaba and Gladstone. From the dreary of war and devastation they have learned the meaning of "Seek Ye First the Kingdom of God." Invading German armies and the throes of a starving nation left to find her way in a world of commerce and Communism forced the people of Greece, as a look at the newspapers will disclose, to high despair.

Nick Rouman came to the United States as a young man in 1915 and worked in Minneapolis. There he learned the American language and learned also to like our way of life.

With the outbreak of the first World War Rouman went into the 151 Field Artillery division of the U. S. Army and was subsequently ordered to France where he was wounded.

Shortly after the Armistice the young immigrant returned to his native land and married. Six children were born to them and all was well.

Then came the last conflict and Rouman and his family along with the rest of the people loved by Aristophanes experienced the hardships of war.

Trouble With Insurgents
In the wake of this came Communism and Rouman found himself at odds with the belief of his insurgent countrymen. He was imprisoned for political abstinence and later helped to escape by friends. For days he ran before Communist mobs and was then recaptured. To remove him from his allies and cohorts the Greek Communists forced him to march 14 hours on foot from Athens and was threatened with death several times. Even his sons, the youngest of whom was 7 at the time, were in danger of being annihilated.

Similar plights dot his post-war history and Mr. Rouman declines publicity or recounting of experiences adamantly. He says "What I want to tell American people for? They know from newspapers and no words can describe it. I am here in the United States with ALL my family and I want to be like the Americans and live in peace."

Nick Rouman's family, including Mrs. Rouman, attend night classes in Traverse City. His only daughter, Vasili, already understands English quite well.

Likes Escanaba Shops
When asked what she likes best in Escanaba she replied, "The shops." Many clothes in American style are all the glamour the shy, but pretty girl could wish.

In Greece Mr. Rouman was a jeweler and had his shop, but invading armies left little for him to sell. In the United States he is content to live a retiring life with just a few chickens and a chance to enjoy his family whom he had much difficulty keeping together in his homeland.

For 16 months prior to embarking for our shores the Rouman circle had been disbanding by revolting people. They met in Athens, their home town, with the help of the English.

Nick Rouman's five sons, George James, Evangelus (twin of Vasilich), Louis, and Petrus, the youngest, now 12, all plan to attend American schools but as yet the opportunities of this land are too unfamiliar for them to decide on vocations.

When asked about art and culture in his homeland, Mr. Rouman replied that there is some but that for the most part dissemination of the works is impossible.

Tall and of good build Rouman showed the Press reporter a picture of himself following his release from prison. He normally weighs 225 pounds—at that time he tipped the scale at 142. The difference was appalling.

Nick Rouman can't understand why, nor what Communists are fighting. In Athens, at the risk of his life, he would ask, "What do you want? This year I share all my profits, next year you come back and want more." To the man, so typically European in manner and thought, it was pillage and injustice.

In regards to the recent decision of the United States, thereby we are to aid Greece and Turkey, Mr. Rouman expressed great happiness and stated that unless some one helps, the sadness of seeing your native land wrecked would be as a death in the family. Only a memory.

POST ARTICLE OF INTEREST

Dr. Robert Baldwin Is Member Of Clinic In Marshfield

A former resident of Escanaba and Army Medical Examiner for this area, Dr. Robert S. Baldwin, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Baldwin and brother of Fred and Mrs. H. L. Holderman of this city, was indirectly associated with an article appearing in the March 22 edition of Saturday Evening Post which discussed at length the Marshfield Clinic in Marshfield, Wis.

Doctor Baldwin, a graduate of the University of Chicago and Rush Medical College, is a diabetic specialist and has been on the staff of the clinic for the past ten years, except for the interim during which he served in the Army.

Steven Spencer lauded the clinic and the values of group-medical practice in the Post feature. Stressing the advantage of several medical brains working together, he illustrated with case histories both the practicalities and costs of treatment at the clinic.

Spencer explains that in some cases the cost may seem greater at the clinic but in the long run it is less due to the consolidation of services and diagnostic effectiveness of such a medical team.

Group-practice of this type is scorned by many individualists in the profession who point out that ethics of such an inter-personal relations of family doctor and patient are lessened. Spencer states that at Marshfield patients may request initial examination by the doctor familiar to them.

Speediness of diagnosis, ready access to medical attention by specialists in the various fields of medicine and a fairer distribution of earnings of physicians and surgeons are some of the advantages of clinical collaboration. According to Spencer (and his experience in surveying some 400 clinics of this nature in the United States) group-practice encourages doctors to keep abreast of new advances in medicine and stimulates medical men to continued research.

In most clinics doctors meet weekly to discuss new cases in their charge and also take turns at presenting knowledge gleaned from reading and experience.

Doctor Baldwin, who expects to fly here for the week end of April 12, joined the staff of 18 at Marshfield following completion of 18 months internship at Cook County General Hospital in Chicago.

During the war he served in the European and Pacific theaters. In 1940 he entered the Army Reserves and after Pearl Harbor was called to active service.

After discharge from the armed forces in 1945 as lieutenant-colonel Doctor Baldwin returned to Marshfield Clinic where he found that his monthly salary had been continued and deposited for the period while he was in uniform.

The former Escanaban is married and has two sons and a daughter.

Purge of the Pinks

THE purge of pinks in others associated with subversive groups who have fanned their way into government employment, ordered by President Truman Saturday, brings up the question: How did these traitors get into governmental service in the first place?

The fact that the president has issued orders to rid the government of employees whose loyalty can be doubted may be taken as an admission that the federal service is spotted with personnel attached to subversive organizations, particularly Communists.

The president's order concerns not only those who are presently employed in governmental service but also those who are candidates for federal employment. Loyalty to an employer is a requisite in any job. It is absolutely essential for government service, where the interest of the entire nation is at stake.

The government payrolls expanded tremendously under the New Deal. In the process of expansion, a frightening number of pinks became attached to government service. They constitute a dire threat to national security because their loyalty is not to the United States and the American principles, but to foreign ideology.

Out with the rascals, and the sooner the better!

Nothing Like Success

NOTHING succeeds like success, to quote a trite saying which still holds good.

Escanaba's industrial expansion program received another good shot in the arm last weekend when announcement was made that Herbert J. Dreger, long affiliated with the General Foundries company of Milwaukee, will establish a large foundry for the production of grey iron castings.

Work of repairing the old extract plant building, idle for a quarter century, will start early in April, and expectations are that production will get under way in June. There is the possibility that eventually the foundry will employ more than a hundred persons.

The new foundry will produce now scarce grey iron castings for the automotive, agricultural and other manufacturing industries of the Milwaukee, Racine, Chicago and Detroit areas. Establishment of a large foundry here might also attract other metal industries to locate in Escanaba in the future. More than fifteen new plants have been drawn to Escanaba since the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and the City of Escanaba embarked on its joint program for industrial development.

Acquisition of the old extract plant removes the last building from the list of available industrial sites in Escanaba and Wells. There may still be, however, some industrial concerns who would be willing to erect their own factories when construction materials become easier to get.

Can We Afford to Waste?

MANY people would like to know to what lengths we can continue exporting food to European and other countries without seriously damaging ourselves.

With the depletion of the country's food reserves, the American consumer faces direct assessments in the form of taxes to provide the purchase money for food relief purposes. He also has to pay higher domestic prices for his foods, as the result of foreign shipments which would be normally consumed in the United States.

We cannot go too far on this road without affecting health and well-being of a very large proportion of the American people. We are exporting far greater quantities of food than we did following the first World War. And with that in mind, we are wondering why the American public tolerates a set-up that allows 80 million bushels of potatoes to be used for non-food purposes or just thrown into the garbage heap. Can we afford to waste good food? And how long shall we permit such New Deal extravaganzas, now that we have a Republican Congress?

Improving M-35

THE Delta county road commission is to be commended for its recent action in directing the attention of the state highway department to the necessity for improving M-35 south of Ford River along the bay shore. Because the commission administers county highway affairs, and maintains state trunklines in the county under a contract with the state highway department, its recommendation will be seriously considered by State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler.

In this postwar period, traffic on highways here and throughout the country has increased in volume. Undoubtedly it will continue to increase in the future, when automobile manufacturers complete their reconversion from wartime production.

Meanwhile there is no time to be lost in improving those highways upon which traffic will inevitably roll in the years ahead. To wait until the volume of traffic is so high that the traveling public is inconvenienced or endangered by inadequate highway facilities would be both shortsighted and uneconomical.

It was probably for that reason that the resolution adopted by the county road commission specifically directs the attention of the state highway commissioner to the need for immediate improvement of M-35 through O. B. Fuller county park nine miles south of Ford River. Through that park traffic on M-35 must negotiate several dangerous curves, and cross Bark River on a bridge limited to one-way travel.

Construction of a new bridge according to modern standards of traffic safety, and the relocation of the highway to eliminate the existing hazard of reverse curves is imperative.

The county road commission in adopting its resolution displayed a commendable realization of its responsibility to the people of the community and to the public generally. Undoubtedly it will receive the support of other organizations and groups who are also aware of the necessity for improving M-35 as soon as possible.

Adult School 'Commencement'

THE Escanaba adult education school will hold its "commencement" program Wednesday night at the Wm. W. Oliver auditorium. It will provide an excellent opportunity to local residents to see for themselves what the adult school offers to the general public and what progress has been made in the various evening classes conducted under the program.

Adult education is a relatively new wrinkle in the tax-supported school program. The curriculum is chosen by the adult students themselves and is designed to assist them to better citizenry, for improvement of home living, for more recreational enjoyment and for preparation to better jobs.

The adult education school undoubtedly will grow in popularity when more of the local residents learn of the work being accomplished, and of the enjoyment that the school has provided for many people. That, of course, is one of the principal reasons for the "commencement" program.

Lamprey Control Essential

LAST year congress appropriated $20,000 for research into ways and means of combating the spread of sea lamprey, which threaten ruin to the Great Lakes commercial fishing industry. The appropriation failed to materialize, however, because enabling legislation was killed in the congressional economy drive during the winter.

The sea lamprey menace is serious and unless a practical method is found to control the parasite, it may eventually destroy one of the most important industries in the Great Lakes states. They are increasing in northern Lake Michigan and in Lake Erie and have also been found occasionally in Lake Superior.

Apparently the only hope of controlling the lamprey is to devise means of preventing them from reaching spawning grounds of the rivers and creeks. Fish experts pessimistically concede that it never will be possible to eliminate them entirely. The sharp reduction in production of lake trout, which are particularly susceptible to the sea lamprey's parasitical habits, shows the necessity for meeting this control problem before it is too late.

The lamprey will begin their spawning runs in April and will continue through June.

William Crapo Durant, founder of General Motors Corp., is dead at 85.

He was one of the stormiest promoters, boldest speculators and soundest industrial pioneers that the country ever produced.

When Durant founded General Motors in 1908 he planned to buy the Ford Motor Co. The price was $8,000,000, with a $2,000,000 down payment. Durant couldn't raise the money.

The same year he went to Wall Street for money. Bankers were favorably impressed with Durant until he was overheard to say that some day this country would manufacture 500,000 automobiles a year. Some 43,000 had been turned out in 1907.

This prediction queered Durant's deal completely.

"That man will have to stop talking such nonsense if he expects to get any money" was the substance of Wall Street comment.

Six years later yearly automobile production was 543,679. Eight years later it was 1,525,578.

A man doesn't have to be a fool to be parted from his money these days.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

WORDS TO WATCH

It is not unusual to hear the word "yeast" pronounced "east," although the silent "y" has no sanction as far back as the numerous dictionaries of my library trace the word.

In Noah Webster's heyday (early 1800's) it was customary to pronounce yeast as "yeest," to rhyme with "best, rest." Most of Webster's contemporaries showed "yeest" as the only pronunciation. But Noah's listing in his American Dictionary (1828) was: "yeest or yeast."

Nowadays, of course, yeast is sanctioned only as: yeest.

Watch the word "worsted"—the cloth. Do not call it "WUR-sted." The vowel sound of the first syllable is the short "oo" as in "wood, wool." The "r" is silent. Say: WOOSST-ed.

But there is a word "worsted" which is correctly pronounced "WUR-sted," however, it is not the name of a cloth; it is the past tense of the verb "to worst," meaning

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—Any government servant who goes near congress these days does so at the risk of his life. The prevailing custom is to break a leg off the nearest committee table and beat the offender over the head with it, on the theory apparently that all government is an iniquitous evil.

It is small wonder that able men want to get out. One of the ablest is Capt. Granville Conway, who is leaving in a few days to go back to his job in private business.

Starting as a merchant seaman in 1916, Conway became connected, in 1921, with the U. S. Shipping Board that preceded the present U. S. Maritime Commission, transferring to the latter when it was created in 1936. He learned the ins and outs of shipping in every phase. He had the kind of know-how which made him invaluable in getting guns, tanks, men and food to the four corners of the earth in the recent war.

The War Shipping Administration first made him director of the Atlantic Coast district, and then a deputy administrator. After the war ended, he succeeded Admiral Emory S. Land as head of the War Shipping Administration, and the responsibility was his for a task almost as big as the operational job of the war years.

—CONWAY ACTED FAST—

That was to re-distribute the 4000 U. S. ships operated by the shipping administration during the war. It meant getting them back into the hands of the private owners from whom they had been requisitioned. This didn't mean just handing them back. It meant negotiating contracts to return them in their original state and do it in such a way that the government would not be on the losing end of these complicated deals.

Conway knew it was important to act fast. He was well aware that the government could not operate a fleet successfully in peacetime. Charter hire on those 4000 ships cost the government $1,000,000 a day.

Just a year ago, Conway started to de-requisition (one of the gobbledygook words that find their way into government documents) the cargo ships under charter here to the shipping administration. By September, 75 percent of the total tonnage—including tankers which put the number of ships well over 4000—had been returned.

Just to recite these figures gives no idea of the endless detail and difficulty involved. Conway says frankly he wouldn't like to undertake it again. Some of the contracts were big. The cost of restoring three Matson liners was $5,500,000 apiece, and shipping men feel that Conway drove a hard bargain for the government.

At one time while he was shipping administrator, the blame for delay in getting relief shipments to Europe was put on lack of shipping space. In a remarkably short time, Conway showed how false that charge was. He demonstrated that the lack was not in tonnage but in goods to fill empty cargo space.

—HEADED SHIPPING FIRM—

When he thought his job was done, Conway left the government to become head of a private shipping company. But in December, Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson and others on the cabinet food committee urged President Truman to try to get Conway back. What with a box-car shortage and shipping troubles, grain was simply not moving abroad in sufficient quantities.

Reluctantly, at the President's plea, Conway returned. He soon got things moving. In December, January and February, which were bad-weather months, more grain was moved than in the previous five months of comparatively good weather. The total for February was 1,465,000 tons. Conway has been working on coal, too, and shipments are now pressing the mark of 3,500,000 tons a month.

There are various measurements of Conway's success. One is the fact that the government's bill for ship hire during the current fiscal year will be only about $7,000,000.

Conway talks about ships the way a Kentuckian talks about race horses. He believes we have a good chance to develop a substantial and not too costly merchant marine.

The know-how of men like Conway is one of America's great assets. It is one of the reasons we won the war. Men of knowledge and capacity should be encouraged to serve the government when that is essential. But if the bickering and abuse from Capitol Hill continue, there will be no one of ability left to man vital government posts.

to get the better of; to overthrow or defeat.

Also note that the pleasant city of Worcester in Massachusetts is not called "WUR-sess-ter." It is: WOOSST-ter.

Now that brings up the question: how should one pronounce Worcester, the sauce? Again the "r" is silent, and the vowel sound is short "oo". In the United States, the -shire is customarily pronounced "sher," to rhyme with "her, per." Worcester, then, in Standard American, is: WOOSST-ter-sher.

I have noticed that, at numerous hotels, the maitre d'hotel is usually referred to as the "may-ter dee." Maitre d'hotel is a French phrase which means literally "master of the house." It is a title given to the chief steward of a hotel, and, often, to head waiters. I see no reason for using the term at all unless it is pronounced correctly: MET-ruh doe-TELL.

Likewise, the French phrase table d'hotel usually greets our ears as "TAY-b'l dee HOE-tee." The correct pronunciation is: TAB-luh-DOTE.

The phrase means literally "table of the host (landlord)," and designate a meal for which a fixed price is charged. A la carte, on the other hand, is a meal, every dish of which is priced separately.

Good Morning!

TO A SOVIET GIRL—An Associated Press report from Moscow tells a waiting word for the Soviet government has banned any future marriages between Russian citizens and foreigners.

During the war several scores of Soviet girls married foreigners, particularly Americans and Britishers, it adds.

Significantly, then, the dispatch reports tersely that "no reason was given" for the Soviet government order.

Since no reason for the order is given, suppose we take our speculative hackaw and cut a hole through the Russian "iron curtain" in an effort to find out why—in this postwar world of brotherly love and peace on earth—the cute little Russian tricks are banned from the export list.

A GALLANT SOUL—Because we once knew a Russian girl who married an American and lived in this country, our opinion of Russian girls (collectively) is likely to be somewhat prejudiced. She was exceedingly handsome and gracious, although inclined toward a statuesque coldness. Her accent was charming, her dress always in the height of American fashion, and she was well-read and capable of intelligent conversation.

And then later we saw pictures of Russian women in Russia and it was somewhat of a shock to find that they were not all cut to the pattern of the example we had known. As pictured, these Russian young ladies were considerably varied in structure and degree of good looks. Some were short and fat, some tall and lean. None of them looked particularly jovial, and they all seemed grimly intent on their work in Soviet factories and collectivized farms. To make the third (or was it fourth?) five-year program a success.

ISOLATIONISM—Looking back on the war years, we have come to the conclusion that the present Soviet government order banning the marriage of Russian girls with "foreigners" is simply another indication of Russia's trend toward isolationism.

President Truman's announcement that America should rally to defend Greece against encroaching Communism is answered by withdrawing the Russian girl from international marriage market. Stalin and Molotov probably feel that since Russia inevitably must operate within the confines of its own borders, they might as well go the limit and keep Soviet girls at home.

Next step will be for the Russians to raise their collective nose and ignore the rest of the world—somewhat as Americans did in the years after World War I. When this comes to pass we will probably have the unusual spectacle of the Russian heiress marrying foreign titles, while the home-town girls are goggle-eyed with envy, and Soviet newspapers decry "the lowering of the dignity of our good Communist womanhood."

SONG AND DANCE—But for the present the Soviet government probably feels that for the good of the people the girls should not take on entangling foreign alliances. If a girl marries an American, for instance, and comes to this country—she is likely to write home and tell the home-folks what she sees and hears.

She might also tell them that

Into the Past

Ten Years Ago

Salem, Ill.—A tire blowout hurled a private bus against a concrete bridge abutment and turned it into a blazing wreck in which 19 persons, including a 4-year-old girl, were killed today.

Speaking before a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Conservation committee here on Wednesday afternoon, Roswell G. Carr Lansing, state director of rural rehabilitation division of the Re-Settlement Administration, said that land zoning is a step in the rebuilding of the top of Michigan, referring to the northern counties in the lower peninsula and the counties in the upper peninsula where zoning and the most profitable use of the land are recognized as important problems.

Lansing, —Gov. Frank Murphy announced tonight that John L. Lewis, head of the Committee for Industrial Organization, agreed to withdraw striking members of the United Automobile Workers of America from the eight Chrysler Corporation plants at Detroit.

Lansing—A radio control bill, authorizing the public utilities commission to zone the state and prescribe the hours for broadcasting, in an effort to prevent interference from stations in close proximity operating at the same time, was passed by the house today and transmitted to the senate.

Detroit—A new reel in the long serial "Aron Sapiro against Henry Ford for $1,000,000" was run off in federal court today and the motor car manufacturer was presented for the first time as plotting against Sapiro, the individual, internationally known Jewish organizer of farmers' cooperative organizations.

Americans can say and write things critical of the government and its leaders; that the Communists in this country are advertising and otherwise using all available mediums of information to tell the people of the advantages of the Communist ideologies; and that she never saw so much high-spirited dancing, drinking and general conviviality in her life.

INTERNATIONAL ROMANCE—Yes, it appears that the Soviet government is acting in a spirit of childishly serious pique. In effect it is trying to convey the message that Russia has arrived and can look down on lesser powers with disdain, that Russian girls are just too good for uncouth foreigners.

If the Soviet government only knew it, it is laying the groundwork for some fancy international romances. Love, like death and taxes, is inevitable and will not be denied. Soviet girls, in love with American engineers, foreign correspondents, or just plain soldiers of fortune, will become heroines as they flee across the ice of Lake Baikal or the Volga pursued by the bloodhounds of the OGPU.

Risking their all for love, these Russian girls will become operatic characters, and like Madame Butterfly will die a thousand deaths to the accompaniment of soulful

Q. Under what conditions may veterans reinstate their term National Service Life Insurance?

A. Such policies may be reinstated by payment of two monthly premiums provided the holders are in as good health as they were at the time of lapse. The previous deadline (February 1, 1947) was recently extended until August 1, 1947.

Q. May German fiancées enter the United States under the so-called "Sweethearts' Bill" (Public Law 471)?

A. No, that law gives non-quota status to individuals whose country has oversubscribed its immigration quota. However, it is quite possible for a veteran to arrange for entry of his German fiancée under the normal quota. A veteran should send supporting affidavits indicating his ability to provide for his fiancée's support after entry into the United States as well as his willingness to marry her, to the U. S. Consul nearest to his fiancée.

Q. We are living in an old house and are troubled with bed bugs. How can we get rid of them?

A. By fumigating the house or the rooms infested with them with hydro-cyanic-acid gas. The gas is deadly poison, hence an expert should be the one to use it.

Q. How did the term "gringo," as applied to Americans, originate?

A. American soldiers, stationed on the Texas border, used to sing, "and the green grass grows all around," etc. The Mexicans on the other side of the border corrupted "green grass" to "gringo" which gradually came to be the name applied to all U. S. citizens.

RUSSIAN HEY, HEY!—Perhaps the most serious aspect of the ban on the marriage of Russian girls to foreigners is the stilling of the romantic spirit. In democratic America the arrival of a personable foreign youth lends variety to the social scene.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—The fur is flying backstage over another fast housing deal the big real estate lobbyists have put over in Congress—and on the veterans.

The deal involves a resolution, adopted behind closed doors by the House Banking and Currency Committee and by an appropriations sub-committee, whereby surplus housing can be sold only for cash.

Innocent on its face, this means a big advantage for the big real estate operators, who can afford to put up spot cash for the multiple-unit surplus housing projects. It also means a swift kick-in-the-pants for war veterans who have been bidding for the same housing projects under "mutual ownership" credit plans.

Since most of the projects are big ones, ranging from 100 up to 3,000 units in size, veteran purchaser groups cannot compete on a cash basis with the big real estate syndicates. The latter would be in a position not only to put up the money, but, because of the limited cash bidding on such large transactions, could force down sales prices.

EPHA experts estimate that one 2,600-unit war housing project which would normally sell for about $8,000,000 (at the rate of $3,000 average per unit) would bring only $4,000,000, or a 50 per cent loss to the government, in a straight-cut cash sale.

Yet this is what Congress proposes to do. The action was taken without anyone's knowing about it in committee resolutions addressed to Dillon Myer, chief of the Federal Public Housing authority.

—ADMINISTRATOR PROTESTS—

The deal was put over by Chairman Jesse Wolcott (Michigan) of the Banking and Currency Committee and Chairman Ben Jensen (Iowa) of the government corporations subcommittee, both favorable to the big real estate interests.

However, Housing Administrator Myer has sent a bristling, confidential letter to Wolcott and Jensen informing them: "While I shall, of course, comply with your request, I wish to emphasize that, in my judgment, the adoption of a permanent policy that would permit sales of war housing projects only for cash would not be in the public interest and would cost the treasury millions of dollars."

"In the first place, such a policy would limit competition in the purchase of the apartment-type housing units to those who have large amounts of cash and those who can readily borrow large sums. Such a sharp narrowing of the possible sales market will, in my judgment, drive steeply the amounts which the government can hope to realize on the sales."

"Secondly, the overwhelming majority of present occupants of the housing units, and of the veterans, both occupant and non-occupant, who now seek to become home owners by purchasing these units individually or in groups, would be unable to compete successfully on that basis."

Since Wolcott and Jensen are both professed believers in saving money for the government, and both professed friends of the veteran, the Myer letter would seem to put the issue squarely up to them.

—UNDER THE DOME—

Senator Forrest Donnell, meticulous Missouri Republican, spent three days speaking on the portal-to-portal bill. Suggested, bored Senator George of Georgia to his Democratic colleague, Tom Connally of Texas: "Tom, now that we haven't got Bilbo around to filibuster I think we ought to draft this man Donnell. We can use a man with staying power like that on our team." . . . It was supposed to be hush-hush, but Wendell Berge, soon-to-retire chief of the Anti-Trust Division quietly blocked a merger of giant manufacturing companies. Calling them into his office, he warned that the Department of Justice would go to court if Lockheed Aviation merged with Victor Emanuel's Aviation Company of America. The latter controls the huge Consolidated-Vultee concern . . . Ex-Congressman Martin Smith, formerly mayor of Hoquiam, Wash., is being boomed for the post to be vacated by Berge. A good man . . . D. C. Judge George D. Nelson is waging a vigorous campaign to preserve the residence of Francis Scott Key, author of the Star-Spangled Banner. Key's old home threatens to be demolished by the widening of a Washington boulevard . . . Congratulations to Norwegian Ambassador Morgenstjerne for giving the U. S. public the facts regarding the pro-quitting activities of Norwegian Soprano Kirsten Flagstad . . . Unlike Toscanini, who bitterly fought Mussolini, or Pablo Casals, the cellist who spent ten years in the Spanish Mountains rather than bow to Franco, some European artists who collaborated with the Fascists now want to come back and receive the plaudits—and gate receipts—of the American public.

THE VANISHING REPORTER?

(Milwaukee Journal)

Climaxing the trend of some of the great weekly magazines, which list everyone but the janitor on the editorial staff, is the impressive editorial setup of a new and rather thin little magazine that gives the "inside dope" on nearly everything. It lists an editor, managing editor, executive editor, economist, assistant managing editor, art director, senior editor, five senior staff editors, 10 staff editors, 10 contributing editors and eight editorial assistants. That's all. Personally, we still find just plain reporters invaluable in gathering the news.

The convention awarded Menominee this year is the third given Menominee since the U. P. association was formed. The first was held in 1934 and the second in 1943.

AN INSIDE STORY of a LIFE ASSURANCE SERVICE

The Balance Sheet of Canada's largest life insurance company reveals 1946 as one of the most progressive periods since the Sun Life issued its first policy 76 years ago, but figures alone tell little of the human story behind this great co-operative enterprise. For instance, last year over $100 million was paid out in benefits. What did this mean to the thousands of policyholders and beneficiaries who shared it? Here in brief is some of the story between the lines:

During 1946 over $11 million was paid in DEATH BENEFITS, providing a continuing income for widows and children and assuring financial security to thousands of homes.

Another $30 million was paid in ENDOWMENTS, furnishing for many the cash or life income necessary to carry out long cherished plans.

$14 million was disbursed under ANNUITIES and PENSIONS, bringing independence, security and contentment at a time of life which should be free of all worries and responsibilities.

Kesler Sport Shop Robbed Of Jewelry Over The Weekend

The Kesler Sporting Goods Store, 1013 Ludington street, was entered sometime Saturday night or Sunday morning, and $400 worth of jewelry stolen.

The loss was discovered about 1:30 Sunday afternoon by Patrick Kesler, proprietor of the store.

He had closed at 5:30 o'clock Saturday night, Kesler said, his usual time, but had been working in the back room until 9 o'clock.

Entry was made through a window on the east side of the building.

The loot included watches, watch bands, rings and cigarette lighters.

All-Night Parking Ban Is Now Lifted From City Streets

Chief Mike Ettenhofer of the city police announced yesterday the lifting of the ban on all night parking on Escanaba's streets.

A city ordinance designed to eliminate winter parking evils forbids all night parking on city streets between December 1 and April 1 in order to keep the streets clear for traffic and to facilitate snow removal by the city street department.

The decision by the police to shorten the ban was influenced by Escanaba's recent spring like weather. A good many Escanaba citizens complained that in order to get their cars off the street, they had to drive up on their lawns, with considerable damage resulting to the lawn.

Briefly Told

Bike Parking—Whoever left his or her bicycle parked on top of the children's playground slide at Ludington Park, may now pick it up at the police station. The city police sent a patrol car out after it Monday morning after receiving a number of telephone calls from citizens who felt its location odd. The bike has, incidentally, no license plate.

Youths Explain City Government To Escanaba Lions

The intricacies of city government as viewed through the eyes of youth were outlined to the Escanaba Lions club last night by Escanaba high school youngsters who took over the reins of municipal government for a day last week.

The high school boys and girls who served as city officials outlined the functions of the various city departments and explained their reactions to the civic program.

Heart Disease On Increase, Sun Life Company Reports

Heart disease, numerically, is the most important cause of death today, with cancer occupying second place, according to Arthur B. Wood, president of the Sun Life Assurance company, in a review of the company's annual report for 1946.

The death rate experienced by the Sun Life during 1946 has been the most favorable on record, and is indicative of the progress of preventative medicine generally, and the important part played by life insurance companies in furthering medical research in the interests of national health, Wood said.

The discoveries made have been largely responsible for a steady improvement in the death rate from diseases of childhood and from tuberculosis, pneumonia and typhoid. Fifty years ago, tuberculosis, typhoid, pneumonia and influenza, combined, caused about 31% of the total annual deaths in life insurance experience.

Among Sun Life policyholders today, these diseases account for only about 5% of the deaths from all causes. On the other hand, diseases of the heart, apoplexy, and nephritis formerly caused 23% of the total deaths. Today they form 57%. This comparison, however, does not necessarily mean that the death rate from diseases of the circulatory system has increased. It does reveal that heart disease, numerically, is the most important cause of death today, with cancer occupying second place.

Mr. Wood, in referring to the contribution of the life companies to public health, stated that recently in the United States a Life Insurance Medical Research Fund had been established, comprising among its membership many American life companies and the ten Canadian companies operating in the United States. The aim of the project is the investigation of the causes of various diseases, particularly heart disease, in the hope of discovering means of prevention and cure.

RAIL SERVICEDelegates From Area To Meet With State
Commission

James Dickson, Manistique city manager, G. S. Johnson, city attorney, and Leonard Mulhaupt, secretary of the Manistique-Schoolcraft Chamber of Commerce are in Sault Ste. Marie today, representing Manistique in a hearing before the Michigan Public Service Commission to ascertain ways and means of providing better rail and transportation service for Upper Michigan.

The three local men are a part of a delegation of men from various cities and villages served by the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic and the Soo Line railways between Manistique, Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie.

The delegation will be headed by G. E. Cherryman of Trout Lake and Phil DeGraff, also of that community who will present before the commission the various deficiencies in passenger and freight transportation in the area and suggest ways and means of doing away with transportation bottlenecks that are hampering shipping and rail service between upper and lower Michigan and forcing this area to depend on Milwaukee, Wis., and Chicago, Ill., for trading facilities instead of with Grand Rapids and Detroit.

A protest along this line was recently voiced by Mr. DeGraff when he said: "Somehow it doesn't seem right that business and industry in the Upper Peninsula (which is, after all, a part of Michigan) should have to look to Wisconsin and Illinois for their merchandise simply because service can be obtained so much more readily than from the highly industrialized centers of our own state. . . It is a ludicrous situation which causes people from any part of the Upper Peninsula to keep appointments in Lansing and Grand Rapids by traveling through Chicago."

Another meeting with the service commission will be held Thursday when that body will be asked to reinstate Soo Line trains 86 and 87. Request, it is understood, will include the putting on of "streamline service" between Sault Ste. Marie and Pembine. These trains heretofore went only as far west as Gladstone.

A delegation of about a dozen local businessmen, it is expected, will make the trip to Sault Ste. Marie for the meeting.

Lake Superior was so named because it is the upper one of the Great Lakes.

Settlers, Alaska
Bound Pass Through
Manistique Monday

The springtime migratory impulse is not confined to birds of passage. The human species is also so much in the same category as was demonstrated by a caravan which stopped here Monday. In the entourage were two trucks, a jeep and three trailers all of which were liberally painted with the formation that the party was "Alaska Bound."

In the party were three families, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wendt and three children; Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Hartner and three children, all of Saginaw; and Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Bryan and child, of Flint.

Mr. Bryan, speaking for the party, stated that they have long been impressed with the opportunities that region affords and that if those opportunities are up to expectations, they intend to remain there permanently. They intend to take Highway No. 2 as far as Havre, head north from there to Edmonton, Alberta, and continue on, along the Alcan Highway with Anchorage as their ultimate destination.

BURNING HOME CLAIMS MOTHER

Mrs. Addie Richardson
Burned To Death
Saturday

Munising—One person was burned to death and two others received burns to their faces and hands as a result of a fire which destroyed the Stephen Richardson home on Ridge Road, 10 miles south east of Munising, about 7:10 Saturday evening.

The dead person is Mrs. Addie Richardson, age 55, wife of Stephen Richardson, who re-entered the burning building in search of her husband and son.

Those who received burns were: Stephen Richardson, age 56—burns on his face and hands; (hospitalized) and sons, Douglas and Kay Richardson, ages 23 and 17 respectively, who were reported suffering only slight burns.

Another son, Donald, 31, was not at home at the time of the fire having left for Munising a short while before the blaze occurred.

Lamp Starts Fire

The fire started when a gas lamp being used in the home Saturday evening exploded, the sheriff's office reported. Members of the family were reported to have immediately vacated the burning building, but later, Mrs. Richardson, who it was stated, thought her husband and son were still in the home, re-entered the building in search of them; became trapped and burned to death.

The Munising fire department sent men and some equipment to the blaze but did not dispatch the regular fire engine, the department reported. Firemen and friends in the locality were unable to subdue the blaze in time to save the structure or the furnishings.

Hold Inquest

An inquest into the death of Mrs. Addie Richardson was held Sunday in Munising by coroner Joseph Lambert and a jury of six found her death accidental. The jury was composed of Raymond LaFave, Roy LaMont, Oliver Froberg, Peter Wilson, John Polach and Ewald Nybeck.

Cpl. John Carstensen and sheriff, Arthur Moote, investigated the fire.

Resident 22 Years

Mrs. Richardson had lived in this district for the past twenty-two years coming here from Marquette, Michigan. She was born June 29, 1892.

Besides her husband, Stephen, she is survived by the following persons: three sons: Donald, Douglas, and Kay; Munising; one daughter—Mrs. Jean LaMourie, Munising; and one brother—James Ripley, Newberry, Michigan.

The body was removed to the Resolue funeral home where it will remain until the time of the funeral. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Mrs. Richardson was a member of the Presbyterian church, Munising.

Workmen Walk Off Carpenter Jobs On GI Housing Project

Munising—Four carpenters of the local Carpenter Union walked off their jobs at the GI housing project on Cedar street Friday in an effort to secure a 12½ cent raise per hour, a reliable source reported yesterday.

The carpenters, previously initiated steps to secure the increase in wages while working on the GI project at Marquette. The Marquette employees secured the raise, but the four carpenters sent to Munising to work, after the initial steps had been taken, were not given an increase, it was stated. With an estimated 10 to 15 days left to complete work here, the local carpenters decided to force the issue in Munising and walked off their jobs.

A representative of the union arrived in Munising during the week-end and it is expected the carpenters will return to work Tuesday with a portion of their demand met, a spokesman reported.

Response To Easter Seal Campaign Very Promising—Corey

Munising—Approximately one-third of the county's quota of $600.00 for the Easter Seal campaign to help crippled children has been collected to date, Walter Corey, chairman of the local campaign, stated yesterday.

Collections to date, which have been obtained through solicitation by letters to individuals and organizations, totals $100.50. Money canisters, placed in various business houses, have not been collected but will remain out until the campaign ends on April 6, Mr. Corey said. However, he added that the trend of responses from letters point toward a most successful campaign through all types of solicitation. The campaign has been in progress since March 12.

Last year the campaign netted $529.00, the chairman stated. This year it appears that the quota of $600.00 will be easily reached and topped by quite a sum, Mr. Corey remarked.

Committee members of the Alger County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Distabled Adults, Inc., conducting the Easter Seal campaign are: Walter J. Cory, chairman; Benjamin Zastrow, secretary; H. A. Wood, Charles A. Brandt; Mrs. Ruth Webber; Dr. G. W. Wickstrom; Dr. G. B. Baxter and Mrs. Vera Peterson.

Radio in Review

By John Crosby

The New, Expurgated Ameche

The other day I was running through my souvenirs, looking for a broken heart, and came across an old, ill-tempered record of the Don Ameche show (N. B. C. 10 p. m. EST Sundays) which referred to it slightly as a "highly spiced hash." In the light of more recent observation, this strikes me as distinctly unfair. Since last September when the review was written, the show has undergone sweeping alterations, including a new format and several new characters. As a result it's a very pleasant and comic half hour.

I never thought I'd live to see the day when I'd call Don Ameche a good comedian but he is; at least on the radio he is. Assisting the man who gave him the name to the telephone are a couple of other artists named Frances Langford and Danny Thomas, who were not around last September. Mr. Thomas, a comparative newcomer, is a rough-and-tumble comedian of the Bert Lahr school, who enjoys a remarkable reputation in Hollywood as a nightclub entertainer. He has also, I understand, seeped into the movies. His income tax must be a perfectly horrible document these days. Mr. Thomas isn't quite as talented as all these activities might indicate but, in his happier moments, he is a very robust comedian.

Miss Langford doesn't require much explanation unless you just arrived from Mars. She has a velvety voice, almost illicit in its femininity, and belongs to that exclusive circle of feminine singers who can be identified the moment they start singing. Incidentally, she appears to have conquered her former distressing habit of bursting into sobs, or what sound like sobs, in the second chorus.

The format has been drastically revised—I'm talking about the show now, not Miss Langford—and all to the good, too. The old Ameche used to sing, toy rather difficultly with comedy and, at the end of the show, tackle drama with such determination that it frequently had to be carried off the playing field. It almost seemed as if Mr. Ameche were trying to gather in the Lux Theatre patrons, the Fred Allen fans and the bobbysox crowd all at once. He succeeded only in getting none of them.

The new Ameche is firmly prevented from singing and sticks entirely to comedy, much of it very good. At the opening of the show, he stooges amiably for Danny Thomas. When sufficiently provoked, Mr. Thomas will burst into song, not the sort of song Mr. Ameche used to sing, but odd, little original numbers such as "The Story of Swanky Bill."

"Whatever Willing did he always did with swank."

"He even wore his top hat when he robbed a bank."

"The judge told him when he put him in the stir."

"You're a worthless good-for-nothing," but he called him "sir."

The brightest spot on the Drene Show is a skit between Miss Langford and Mr. Ameche. It's new to me that Miss Langford is a comedienne. She used to utter small comic remarks on the Bob Hope show but she was so overwhelmed by the bedlam that goes on over there that it didn't come off very well. In these small domestic comedies, she does very well.

A recent skit concerned a woman who started discussing her husband's snoring and then, by a process of feminine irrelevance, proceeded to chatter on indefinitely about her looks, her health, her cooking, her husband's treatment of a child they haven't got, and, somehow or other, a $50 ticket on a racehorse.

Though I scarcely believed the evidence of my own ears, it was character comedy with teeth in it; that is, it revealed a very unpleasant relationship between husband and wife and still was very funny. In the theater, it would be dismissed as a rather mild example of its kind but to find this sort of comedy on the air at all is a very heartening sign.

The advertising on this program, I'm afraid, is about as bad as it ever gets in radio. The name Drene is hammered into the listeners, by actual count, twenty-nine times in half an hour. There ought to be a law.

Escanaba Bears Will Join The Rainbow League For 1947 Season

Bark River Tom Swifts Win Hermansville Cage Tournament

CIRCUIT WILL HAVE 10 CLUBS

NWM Franchise Given Up; Schwalbach In Charge Again

The Escanaba Bears baseball team, which played in the Northern Michigan Wisconsin league last summer, will yield its franchise in that circuit this year and will join the Rainbow league, which has been expanded to ten teams. Negaunee Rovers, also in the NWM league in 1946, likewise will join the Rainbow circuit this year.

That was indicated Sunday at the preliminary meeting of the Rainbow league held at the Marquette Legion clubrooms in which ten communities were granted franchises in the league and initial payments were made on the league franchises.

Other teams in the Rainbow league will represent Marquette, Ishpeming, Munising, Gladstone, Trenary, Chatham, Humboldt and Manistowish.

Meet Again May 4
Orville Wieland of Munising was reelected president of the Rainbow league for 1947 and Gene Short of Marquette was reelected secretary of the league. George Williams of Escanaba was elected vice president. The next meeting of the league will be held Sunday, May 4, at Munising, at which time the schedule will be drawn and the league teams will pay the balance of their franchise fees.

John Schwalbach, who piloted the Escanaba Bears last season, will be in charge of the local club again this year. Schwalbach said the decision to shift to the Rainbow league was made primarily because the majority of the clubs in that circuit are natural rivals of Escanaba athletic teams and to avoid long road trips to the Copper Country that participation in the NWM league would necessitate this season.

Encourage Youths
Schwalbach emphasized the rebuilding of the Escanaba Bears this season will be designed for the greatest encouragement of youth participation.

"The plan is to institute a professional baseball in this territory next season," Schwalbach said, "and that means that young players will be given an opportunity for baseball careers. We intend to give young ball players every chance to get started this season so that they will be better equipped to make the grade when professional baseball comes to the Upper Peninsula."

Cerdan Needs Win Over Green To Get Shot At Tony Zale

New York, March 24. (AP)—Sol Strauss, acting general manager of the 20th Century Sporting club during the illness of Mike Jacobs, said today he would try to make a middleweight title bout between Marcel Cerdan, European champion, and World Titleholder Tony Zale if the Frenchman whipped Harold Green in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Sam Pien, Zale's manager who arrived today, said, however, that he was "not so sure that Cerdan is the best gate attraction we can get for Zale."

The middleweight champion originally was to have had a return match this month with Rocky Graziano, whom he knocked out in the sixth round of a spectacular bout in New York Yankee stadium last September. Since then Graziano has had his New York license revoked for failure to report a $100,000 bribe offer.

There were reports in New York today that in the event that Graziano's license is not returned to him, a Chicago promoter may put on the Graziano-Zale bout, since Graziano is prohibited from boxing in New York.

Oklahoma Ousts Jap Haskell As Athletic Director

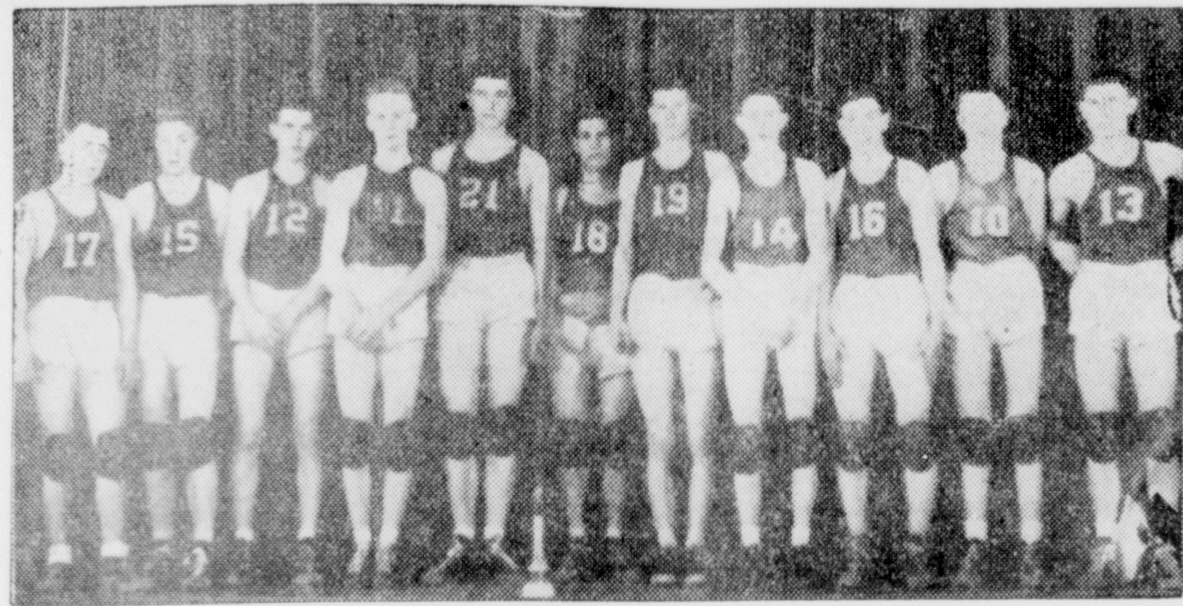

Norman, Okla., March 24. (AP)—President George L. Cross said today that L. E. (Jap) Haskell will be relieved of his duties as athletic director at the University of Oklahoma effective June 30.

Cross said the decision was reached at a meeting of regents last week but was not announced until today.

Cross said in a statement "the regents considered carefully the activities and finances of the athletic department during the past year and came to the conclusion that Mr. Haskell should not have charge of the department after June 30."

Haskell was not available for comment. His release was announced shortly after he conferred with the university president this afternoon.

The 46-year-old director was graduated from the university with a degree in geology in 1922.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

The Iron Ore, weekly newspaper at Ishpeming, dislikes the present basketball tournament setup and proposes drastic revision which would place emphasis upon season's records. In Class B, for instance, the Iron Ore proposes that the 15 teams be divided into two districts of seven and eight schools, respectively. The teams would play home and home series with all other schools in their district. The two top clubs in each district then would qualify for the championship tournament. The Iron Ore is presenting the idea to newspapers throughout the peninsula for expressions of opinion.

Conceding that the charge made by the Iron Ore that the present plan permits a team to win the U. P. championship even though it loses every game during the pre-tournament season is true, we still favor it in preference to the plan proposed by the Iron Ore. The odds against a team losing all of its games in the regular season and then copping the U. P. title in the tournament setup are so long that we personally would be the first to cheer any team that could accomplish it. It has never been done and we doubt that it ever will. In fact, the thing that we particularly like about the present setup is that it does give an equal opportunity for every team, regardless of what may have happened in games played before the district tournament open.

Certainly one of the greatest objections to the proposal advanced by the Iron Ore is that teams would have their regular schedules filled with teams of their own class in their own districts. Under such a plan, for instance, Escanaba would have no room on its schedule to play such teams as St. Joseph and Gladstone, natural rivals of the Eskymos who happen to be Class C schools. Imagine Iron Mountain, as another example, being denied regular season games with Norway and Crystal Falls, merely because Iron Mountain is a Class B school and Norway and Crystal Falls are Class C schools.

The Iron Ore's plan would eliminate the district tournament open.

He was a member of the championship Missouri Valley conference football team in 1921.

NEW TRAINER—Mel Jorgenson, left, is the new trainer of the Escanaba amateur boxers. He is being assisted by Leon Walker, former local amateur boxer. Jorgenson and Walker are shown here with John Stropich, middleweight, who is working out on the heavy bag. The local boxers are preparing for the fight card that will be presented here April 21.

Lakeland, Fla., March 24. (AP)—Virgil (Fire) Trucks went the full route for the first time this season as the Detroit Tigers shut out their Buffalo farm club of the International league 6 to 0 today.

Trucks yielded only six hits while the American leaguers collected five runs and nine hits off Earl Evans, who worked the first five innings for the Bisons, and one hit and one run off Andy Bush. The hit was a triple by Johnny McFall, Buffalo's regular first baseman last year.

IRON RIVER '5' BOWS, 67-45

Bob Danguette Awarded Rodman Memorial Player Trophy

Hermansville, March 24.—The Bark River Tom Swifts, who appear certain to win the Northern Lakes independent basketball league championship, defeated the Iron River Sentinels, 67 to 45, here Sunday night to annex the Hermansville independent tournament title.

Oddly enough, the Swifts' triumph in the finals was its easiest of the tournament. Last Thursday night, the Bark River five, paced by Bob Ranguette, Escanaba cage luminary, trounced Channing, 62-47. In the second round Saturday, it stopped Wakefield, 55-51, and then posted a 57-51 triumph over the Negaunee Beau Chateaus Sunday afternoon before taking the Sentinels into camp Sunday night.

Ranguette set a scorching 24-point pace in leading the Swifts to their final victory here. He dropped 10 field goals and a quartet of free throws for top scoring honors.

Ranguette Wins Trophy
The rangy and agile Escanaba star, incidentally, won the Joe Rodman Memorial trophy awarded annually to the outstanding player in the tournament. Ranguette added to his laurels by being the meet's highest scorer, the highest point-getter in a single game and by winning a place on the all-tournament team.

Ed Gauthier, Swift guard, won a second team berth in the all-tourney selections, and his teammate, Bob Anderson, was placed on the third team.

The Bark River quintet wasted no time in convincing the Iron River aggregation of Swift capabilities. It outscored the Sentinels, 16-5, in the opening period and went to the dressing room at half time with a 33-17 advantage.

Only in the third period did the Sentinels make a strong bid. They outscored Bark River, 15-14, but it was a short-lived ride in the driver's seat. The Swifts came back to outscore the Sentinels, 20-13, in the finale, which was more than ample to establish themselves as the class of the tournament.

Anderson was second high scorer with eight field goals and three charity tosses.

Next Saturday night, the Swifts will play the Badger Mills at Peshtigo.

The Sentinels advanced to the finals against Bark River by beating the Hermansville Silver Foxes. Box score:

Nothern Lake All-Stars To Play Colored Quintet

An all-star team composed of nine outstanding players of the Northern Lakes independent basketball league will battle the New York Broadway Colored Clown quintet in the Rapid River gym next Friday evening, beginning at 8:15.

The feature attraction not only will permit basketball fans of this district to see a capable comedy crew of colored cagers in action, but it will provide them with the unusual opportunity of seeing the best individual talent in the Northern league perform in the same evening.

Honored by being chosen by coaches in the league as the outstanding players in the season just closed, Escanaba's Bob Ranguette and Marinette's Jug Girard will lead the Northern Lakes all-star aggregation. Both men are phenomenal scorers. Ranguette chunking a 979 points in 41 games this season with Tom Swift's team.

In addition to Ranguette and Girard, the following players—each picked as the best player on his respective team—will represent Northern Lakes in the featured tilt Friday with the colored New Yorkers: Bob Ellis, Negaunee Beau Chateaus; Carl Steinhoff, Munising Cox Chevrolets; Harris Olson, Marinette Northern Improvement; Dick Berger, Manistowish Hub Bars; Tony Machalk, Hermansville Silver Foxes; Jim Kessler, Escanaba VFWs, and Roy Johnson, Tom Swifts.

The Marquette Knights of Columbus are the only team in the league not represented on the all-star team. The K-Cs did not submit the name of their best player.

TEXAS RELAYS OPEN FRIDAY

Parker - Martinson Sprint Duel Tops Track Program

Austin, Tex., March 24. (AP)—The twentieth annual Texas relays, bringing 1,000 athletes from Tennessee to California and as far north as Michigan, will go on here Friday and Saturday with the Charley Parker-Bill Martinson sprint feud still tops but with several other prospective duels pushing it for interest.

Parker, the Texas dash king, and Martinson, Baylor's cocky little flier, clash again in the 100-yard event. At the Southwestern recreation meet in Fort Worth last week Parker got revenge for his first defeat in five years by beating Martinson by two yards in the century and outrunning him in the sprint relay.

Allen Lawler of Texas, the 1946 Texas relays winner; Jim Metcalfe of Oklahoma A. and M.; Tom Dickey of Louisiana State and Stonie Cotton of Baylor will also be in the 100-yard dash to bring prospects of one of the fastest ever runs in Texas.

Top-rated entries include George Kadera of Texas A. and M., one of the nation's leaders in the discus throw; John Burke of San Francisco university, another star discus twirler; Dick Prather, great shot-putter from Kansas State; Jim Lowther of Louisiana State, last year's javelin throw champion, and Fred Feiler of Drake, 1946 king of the 3,000-meter grind.

Drake, Texas A. and M., Texas, Baylor, Purdue and Michigan are leaders in the battle for relay titles, while the college class will have some fine teams from

DODGER CASE TO CONTINUE

MacPhail's Charges Against Durocher, Rickey Aired

Sarasota, Fla., March 24. (AP)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler announced tonight that his hearing on defamation charges brought by Col. Larry MacPhail of the New York Yankees against officials of the Brooklyn Dodgers would be continued Friday at St. Petersburg, Fla.

At the Friday meeting, Chandler said, only MacPhail and President Branch Rickey of the Dodgers would be present with the commissioner.

MacPhail's charges against Rickey and Manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers were aired in a lengthy meeting which got underway in mid-afternoon with Durocher as the first witness.

He flew here from Havana to answer the accusations personally, but had no comment upon coming out of the commissioner's executive session.

Durocher, who left his wife, Laraine Day, motion picture star, at Tampa, was flanked by Walter O'Malley, Branch Rickey, Jr., Arthur Mann and Harold Parrott, officials of the Brooklyn club, and Attorney George H. Williams, former state senator from St. Louis.

One notable absence was Rickey, Sr., who yesterday informed Chandler that he would be unable to attend the hearing due to the death of his brother-in-law, John Moulton, in Ohio.

Chandler, after refusing Rickey's request to postpone the hearing, said he had summoned Rickey to appear at his Cincinnati office later in the week. The commissioner expected to leave for Cincinnati within a day or two.

Frankie Baumholtz, of the Cleveland Rebels of the Basketball Association of America, led the Sally League in hitting in 1946 with .343. Cincinnati owns him.

HIGHER OLD AGE GRANTS PUSHED

Maximum Increased To $45 A Month By Bill In State Senate

Lansing, March 24 (AP)—The state senate tonight pushed into position for a vote tomorrow a bill which would increase the maximum old age assistance grants from $40 to $45 a month.

The state welfare department estimated the bill would cost the state an additional $1,000,000 a year and would boost the average grant of a recipient from $36 a month to $37.80.

The senate sent back to its judiciary committee for further hearings a bill which would permit corporations to condemn private property, easements, royalties, leaseholds, flowage rights and water power for use by public utilities in handling electric power and natural and manufactured gas.

Sen. Harry F. Hittle, chairman of the judiciary committee, which had reported out the measure originally, yielded to the demands of Sen. Colin L. Smith, Big Rapids Republican, for further hearings on the matter.

However, Hittle charged that the opposition to the measure came from "the attorney for a large oil company" whom he said had bought up options on gas wells in areas where public utilities are planning to store natural gas and to make a personal profit of from $75,000 to $100,000.

Hittle said the bill was necessary to permit Michigan gas companies to replenish their stocks by pipeline from the Southwest and hold it for use by Michigan customers.

The house received a bill which would permit pool rooms, dance halls, bowling alleys and soft drink establishments outside of municipalities to serve intoxicating liquor with approval of the township board.

A constitutional amendment changing the term of county officers from two to four years was ready for introduction by Rep. John Maurer, Detroit Republican.

removed from Germany as reparations or as war booty.

Nation Needs Exports
Marshall's proposal on occupation troops was reported to specify that the number be cut to the minimum necessary to carry out Allied policies and protect security in Germany.

Under the American recommendation, the Allied control council for Germany would be directed to report by next June 1 on the number of forces it considered needed for each of the four zones of next July 1 and as of July 1, 1948.

The paper asked the ministers specifically to declare that a reduction in occupation costs was necessary to make the German economy self-supporting, and to expedite German production for exports, the informant said.

The paper on democratization provided that:

1. The German state and federal constitutions should guarantee freedom from search, seizure and arbitrary arrest; and should also guarantee other basic rights.

2. Elections throughout Germany should be supervised by the four powers. The Allied control council should be instructed to require observance of the principles of freedom of political action for national political parties.

3. Trade unions should be guaranteed freedom.

4. Ideas and media which contain ideas should be allowed to circulate freely through all of Germany, except for the requirements of military security. Such media should be free from domination by any German government, national or local.

5. Allied personnel and goods should be allowed to move freely through Germany.

Jury Is Selected To Try Girl, 14, For Shooting Father

St. Louis, March 24 (AP)—Seven women and five men, all but one of them parents, were chosen today for the juvenile court jury which will try 14-year-old Mary Catherine Reardon for the death of her father, a wealthy St. Louis paint manufacturer.

Attorneys for Mary Catherine entered a plea of innocent to the charge of delinquency by reason of murder in the death of her father last February 8. At that time the ninth grade student told authorities she shot her father in the back of the head with a gun belonging to 13-year-old Michael D'Arcy, a school companion.

Reardon was driving to his home with the girl and young D'Arcy after finding them in a cabin where they said they spent the night. The car smashed into a ditch after the shot and Michael died of injuries a few hours later.

Mary Catherine, who was unharmed, told officers she shot her father because she feared he would place her in a girl's school as a result of the nocturnal escapade.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Leona Reardon, is not expected to attend the trial. She was committed to a hospital following the shooting by a court decision which held she was of unsound mind because of habitual drunkenness.

AMERICA AND BRITAIN LOOK FOR SECURITY

States points, they were:
1—The reduction and regulation of armaments and armed forces depends primarily on the establishment of international confidence; the converse argument is misleading and dangerous.

2—Completion of an international military force would contribute greatly to the desired establishment of international confidence.

3—The establishment of an effective system of international control and verification must precede the adoption of any system for arms reduction.

In the past Russia has taken the view that disarmament should be the first step taken, with general world security to follow, and was inclined to view any opposition as an attempt at delay. Cadogan referred to such an opposition theory with the declaration that it was the stand taken by Mussolini and he hoped "no one will be inclined to repeat the Fascist government's contention today."

GOVERNOR SIGNS DEFICIENCY BILL

Colleges And Hospitals Get Funds To Finish Out Fiscal Year

Lansing, March 24 (AP)—Governor Sigler today signed into law a bill appropriating $11,336,590 to meet deficiencies of state agencies until the end of the fiscal year.

The bill provides $1,250,000 for the University of Michigan and $2,526,290 for Michigan State College, both items declared by legislative leaders to result from the colleges' inability a year ago to estimate the size of their veteran loads.

Other college grants include: Michigan College of Mining and Technology $54,132, Central Michigan College of Education, $63,835, Michigan State Normal College $64,340, Northern Michigan College of Education $25,110, and Western Michigan College of Education $158,129.

Other appropriations included: Cora State hospital $47,995, Ionia State hospital $23,821, Lapeer State Home and Training School $155,466, Newberry State hospital $67,630, Sault Ste. Marie State hospital $10,450, Ypsilanti State hospital $47,409, Girls Training School at Adrian $24,500, Michigan Children Institute $135,000, American Legion Children's Billet $21,250.

The measure also includes $2,300,000 to carry direct relief through June 30 and $2,800,000 for aid to dependent children in the same period.

Provided also is $1,250,000 to reimburse local government for veterans homestead tax exemptions.

Utah Five Upsets Kentucky To Win National Cage Cup

New York, March 24 (AP)—Utah's Cinderella kids won the national invitation basketball tournament tonight, outlasting the defending champion Kentucky Wildcats, 49-45, with a great exhibition of skill and stamina in the rip-roaring final before 16,467 fans at Madison Square Garden.

Square only six players, four of whom went the entire 40 minutes, the underdog Redskins—who came into the tournament unheralded and unseeded—grabbed the lead from the once-proud Southeastern conference champions in the early minutes and never were behind thereafter.

The Wildcats, who lost only two games in 34 starts during the regular season, tried to wear down the spunky westerners with superior manpower but the Redskins of Coach Vadal Peterson simply refused to crack.

Turkey did not enter the war until Germany's end was near—Feb. 23, 1945, effective March 1.

Dikes Endangered By British Flood

London, March 25 (AP)—Wind-lashed waters threatened new damage tonight to levees guarding the rich Fenland farm area of eastern England, where floods have already caused what Agriculture Minister Tom Williams described as a "disaster of the first magnitude" bound to affect the British food outlook.

Hundreds of troops and civilian workmen were rushed to danger points in the dikes holding back the tidal New Bedford River, where a breach would loose more flood waters on thousands of acres already inundated.

WALKOUT ENDED AT WEST ALLIS

Warring Unions Work Side By Side In Huge A-C Factory

Milwaukee, March 24 (AP)—Members of two warring unions worked side by side today as an uneasy truce existed in the vast Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co. home plant where UAW-CIO Local 248 has ended its 328-day old strike.

The local found its bargaining right dependent on a National Labor Relations Board hearing. The development, based on a bargaining election held Jan. 26 on petition of the independent workers of Allis-Chalmers, came as the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board announced that twelve challenged ballots had been counted—nine for the independent and three for the UAW-CIO—and wiped out Local 248's two-vote majority.

Thus Local 248's retention of bargaining rights hinged on the ballots of President Robert Buse and Vice President Joseph Dombek, impounded by the board pending outcome of a NLRB hearing. The two officers, discharged by the company last December, have filed unfair labor practices charges against the company with NLRB and seek reinstatement.

Walter E. Petersen, chairman of the independent, said he would petition for a run-off election "as soon as possible."

Meanwhile in other developments, Local 248 filed suit in federal district court here asking $1-

Former U. S. Judge Found Innocent Of Cheating In Court

Harrisburg, Pa., March 24 (AP)—A Federal jury today acquitted former U. S. District Judge Albert W. Johnson of conspiracy to defraud the government in proceedings of the court over which he presided.

The three men and nine women also exonerated one of Johnson's sons—Captain Albert W. Jr.—of the same charges but convicted two other sons—Donald M. and Miller A.—and co-defendants John Memolo and Jacob Greens.

Maximum punishment of two years imprisonment and $10,000 fines immediately was assessed all those convicted by presiding Judge James Alger Fee of Oregon. Defense attorneys filed notice of appeal.

The six were tried together on indictments charging corruption in 11 cases of receiverships, bankruptcies and criminal cases before Johnson during his more than 20 years in the middle Pennsylvania district court where he was tried.

500,000 in portal pay and "unspecified liquidated damages" from the company.

The end to the long strike, voted yesterday at a membership meeting, found chief issues still unsettled. Returning workers received the 18½ cent hourly wage increase non-strikers have been getting since last August, but union demands for a 25 per cent wage hike, a union shop and union control of grievance procedure remained. Both company and union have declared the "fight would continue."
